TREASURY DEPARTMENT, June 2, 1838.

PETITION

ORIGIN RACHBLER

Congress of Mexico is the Government of France and Mexico which the undersigned wishes to withdraw.

SUBJECT

It is the Commission for the Peace and Justice of the World.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

The undersigned respectfully presents the following petition:

That your honorable body express to the Governments of France and Mexico that they submit their disputes to the arbitration of a third party consisting of one power or more or of individuals selected by the parties as may be deemed desirable.

Your petitioner deems it scarcely necessary that he should make one of a single argument in support of this petition. The recognition of the principle of the principle of international arbitration is variously illustrated by the Government of the United States, and particularly by your honorable body during your recent session, which again clearly to demonstrate the necessity of arbitration in this regard. But when there is a conflict of views must be an arbitrator and a mediator, which is what we are all before us, neither party is going to arbitration. And what is the result? And now, on this occasion, is the United States, the country that has herself been preserved from war with both those powers by means of the very principle under consideration? If were but the mere discharge of a debt to the community of nations, that the country that has herself repeatedly realized the benefit of the disinterested and magnanimous intervention of others in the amicable adjustment of her disputes, should, in her turn, render the same generous services when opportunity presents. But more particularly does this country owe it herself, to the spirit of her institutions, to her high claims to political pre-eminence, that she should, largely in her own interest and general good of all, take.

It were difficult to conceive a more glorious emblem for a nation than that of attempting to conciliate hostile powers. If to make peace between individuals was pronounced, by the founder of the Christian religion, a hallowed duty, if peace-makers, on a small scale, were by him commended
